

-In a team with a common objective they don't measure how much each has done to help the common goal. We can find more skills, less weaknesses and everyone has a common goal to achieve so the glory is shared.

-Failure is the only way to success. While it happens the team don't make a big deal because it is just a demonstration that something is not working. Recognizing and admitting let you move past mistakes.

-Common objective.

-Supportive.

-Goals.

-Dream work.

-Failure.

-Success.

-Accomplishments.

-Working in unison.